

Celebrating 45 years
Informing & Empowering
Democracy in NYC

Introducing

The City Limits Hall of Fame & Fellowship Programs

To celebrate a landmark 45th year, City Limits is launching the Hall of Fame and two Fellowship Programs to recognize those who have worked to create a more equitable and just city.

The inaugural City Limits Hall of Fame is honoring 4 women who exemplify the diversity, ingenuity and grit of New Yorkers. Their work and contributions have furthered our mission - to inform and empower citizens to create a more equitable and just city.

The Fellowship Programs have been established to honor Jarrett Murphy and Mark Edmiston, whose long-term contributions and impact have helped make City Limits a sustainable, investigative, award winning, independent local news outlet.

City Limits Fellowships

Leave a lasting mark by funding a Fellowship for emerging talent

Jarrett Murphy
Former Executive Editor
City Limits

Mark Edmiston
Chair Board of Trustees
City Limits

For its 45th anniversary year, City Limits is introducing two new fellowships of $25,000 each that will directly fund fellows in the following areas:

The Jarrett Murphy Fellowship in Climate & Health Reporting

In honor of Jarret Murphy's extraordinary 14 year tenure with City Limits, including as the newsroom leader, this fellowship is being named for his contributions to reporting in New York, focusing on Murphy's passions: the effects of climate change, and health care for New Yorkers.

The Mark Edmiston Fellowship in Media & Business Innovation

Following a storied career in media and publishing, including many years as the chair of the City Limits Board of Trustees, City Limits is establishing a fellowship in Mark Edmiston's name to support an emerging business leader to focus on the organization's new products initiatives and strategic business development.

Support for the Fellowships can be made via a donation at citylimitsgala.org
